Leaders in organized dentistry recognized

DENVER, Colo. — On Thursday, May 11, 2006 the Metropolitan Denver Dental Society (MDDS) honored local dentists who have demonstrated outstanding leadership in the dental profession. The MDDS Honus Maximus Award, Volunteer of the Year and Chair of the Year awards were presented to the following dentists at a special ceremony held during the MDDS Annual Meeting held at Red Rocks Amphitheatre and Visitors Center.

Edward F. Rosenfeld, DMD, MS, a Denver-based endodontist, received the 2006 Honus Maximus Award, honoring individuals who have contributed to the advancement of the profession of dentistry, or to major improvements in the oral health of the community. The Honus Maximus Award is the highest honor the Society bestows on its members.

Jeffery M. Hurst, DDS, a Lakewood-based general practitioner, received the 2006 MDDS Volunteer of the Year Award for remaining actively involved in a broad spectrum of MDDS events, committees and programs immediately following his presidency of the organization and during his second year as Treasurer to the Colorado Dental Association.

Malcolm E. Boone II, DDS, MS, a Denver-based prosthodontist, and Marc Carpenter, DDS, a Westminster-based general dentist, received the 2006 MDDS Chair of the Year Award for their efforts as co-chairs of the MDDS Peer Review and Patient Relation Committee.

The Metropolitan Denver Dental Society is a 109-year-old organization committed to improving the standard of dental care for the Denver community. The Society, a component of the American Dental Association, acts as the unified voice to advance public awareness and dental education for the benefit of its members and the public.
