Selecting patients: Recommended application process

While so many individuals are in need of dental care, due to the nature and length of treatment, it is recommended that ONLY those individuals with an optimistic chance for compliance in the program (keeping all appointments, having reliable transportation and contact information, etc...) be referred. We recommend that you encourage interested individuals to apply for the program within your organization and conduct a short interview to determine if they are ready, willing and able to participate. Although all dental services are provided free of cost, patients must make an investment in themselves to be successful in this very special program.

THANK YOU!
